More notes on Sandra's passing.

Janet Knuutila Krizek who was Sandra's cousin provided the following information. She said that Sandra was just diagnosed with lymphoma around Thanksgiving. She also indicated that one of the daughters wrote the obit, and she guessed the fact that Sandra had breast cancer about six years ago and endometrial cancer a couple of years ago made it seem like she had been fighting cancer forever. Sandra had overcome both the first illnesses. This last time Sandra got really sick and was in a nursing home the last month or so. Two of the daughters live in Dryden and the third one isn't too far away. Janet lives in Ithaca, also.
