

WALTER ALLEN HARRINGTON

Walter Allen Harrington, born December 28, 1941, died October 8, 2001, at the age of 59, in Florida after a long struggle with throat cancer. He is buried in the Florida National Cemetery.

Wally served in the U.S. Navy in Vietnam. Afterwards he made his home in Florida, living in both Clearwater and Hudson. Wally owned a successful lawn service business with his brother Dale, IHS '62.

Wally's daughter, Becky, said her Dad worked hard all his life, mostly out of doors. He also was a skilled glass worker who installed special sliding glass doors which are so popular in the sunrooms of Florida houses. Becky said he could always make a house or room look better.

Becky remembers her Dad as a handsome man who was good to people and always a good father she could count on. Wally had four children, Becky and Todd from his first marriage, and Brandy and Bradley from his second marriage, and four grandchildren. He was predeceased by his parents. His brother Dale died June 4, 2010.
